

Your Minnesota office supplied me with 2 orders of the captioned product (very efficiently I might add, by a delightful gal whose name escapes me right now--sorry), for sealing my log home in Manitowoc, Wisconsin (orders might be under contractor's name--J.R. Schroeder). The interior was finished about this time last year and the exterior was completed in May, 2000. Neighbors and friends have been watching for separation and cracking---so far none!!! I am one of those that likes to commend organizations that sell products that work well--above expectations---but I always worry that it will be a jinx!!! Since I've gone for close to a year for the entire project and not a flaw so far, I feel safe to now say what a pleasure your product was to use and the results have been perfect so far through the several seasons of expansion/contraction. Tell me I AM safe!!! My next project, assuming I muster the energy, will be to "finish" the interior wood---which has remained undone southern yellow pine and other pine planking--with one of your products. The exterior has been "preserved" with "Woodguard" oil based per manufacturer's specs--so I guess I'm stuck with that forever. Anyhow, I do want to give my accolades to Permachink for Energy Seal and to that unsung hero in your MN office. Thanks and best regards.
